In November of 2000, the voters of San José approved a $228 million General Obligation Bond for the purpose of acquiring property and constructing improvements for parks and recreation facilities in San José. This money funds the renovation of 90 play areas, 28 restrooms, nine community centers, construction of a soccer and softball complexes, enhancements to Happy Hollow Zoo, Kelley Park, Emma Prusch Memorial Park, the Municipal Rose Garden, Almaden Lake Park and five trail projects. This is the public hearing regarding the implementation of the 2005-06 bond projects.
